Language of Instruction: Hong Kong Sign Language	Units: 3

Course Description

This course is the continuation of HKSL3001. This course adopts a communicative approach to sign language teaching. This course emphasizes developing the skills for expressing personal opinions and constructing longer narratives, helping students to become independent users of the language. Students will learn to command a larger vocabulary and complex sign language structures. Students are encouraged to analyze some selected deaf issues in the local community and the world.

Important message:

Mixed-mode teaching will be adopted for this course. Face-to-face activities will be conducted on some weeks. Teachers and students should wear masks and observe all precautionary measures for face-to-face meetings as announced by the University. On some weeks online activities will be conducted to maximize opportunities for practices and enhance your learning experience.

Learning Outcomes

CEFR profiles a learner's language proficiency in a number of illustrative descriptors in six levels (A1, A2, B1, B2, C1, C2). The descriptors covers language skills of production, comprehension, signed interaction, processing text, pragmatic competencies, thematic development, and qualitative factors. Acquiring the skills at B2 level, students will be independent users of Hong Kong Sign Language, being able to use the language to

- understand the main ideas of complex text on both concrete and abstract topics, including technical discussions in his/her field of specialization.
- interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that makes regular interaction with native/proficient signers quite possible without strain for either party.
- produce clear, detailed text on a wide range of subjects and explain a viewpoint on a topical issue giving the advantages and disadvantages of various options.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Attention is drawn to University policy and regulations on honesty in academic work, and to the disciplinary guidelines and procedures applicable to breaches of such policy and regulations. Details may be found at <http://www.cuhk.edu.hk/policy/academichonesty/>.

With each assignment, students will be required to submit a signed declaration that they are aware of these policies, regulations, guidelines and procedures. For group projects, all students of the same group should be asked to sign the declaration.

For assignments in the form of a computer-generated document that is principally text-based and submitted via VeriGuide, the statement, in the form of a receipt, will be issued by the system upon students' uploading of the soft copy of the assignment. Assignments without the receipt will not be graded by teachers. Only the final version of the assignment should be submitted via VeriGuide.

Feedback for Evaluation

Our language programme highly values students' feedback and comments and is happy to use them for reflection on our teaching and improvement. Students are very welcome to provide comments and feedback on the course any time to their course teacher or the course level coordinator through email or in personal conversation. In addition, students' feedbacks will be collected in the middle of the term through an open-end questionnaire and the teacher will discuss the feedbacks in class and make improvements if necessary. The course will also follow the university's course evaluation exercise at the end of the term, and students' feedbacks will be used for future course planning and teaching.
