Department of Linguistics and Modern Languages
The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Term 1, 2024-25

Course Code & Title:	KORE3020	Sounds of Korean
Language of Instruction:	Korean & English	Units:	3

Course Description
This course introduces the phonetic system of the Korean language. Supported by audiovisual aids, students will understand the sound of the vowels and consonants, the pronunciation rules and the intonations in different contexts of the Korean language. The articulation of some Korean sounds that are more difficult for Chinese speakers will also be examined. Through interactive classroom learning activities, students' accuracy of Korean pronunciation will be enhanced. Pre-requisites: KORE3000,3001,3002,3050 or 3051

Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:
(1) produce the sound of each vowel and consonant accurately;
(2) identify phonetic rules and apply them to pronunciation properly;
(3) reduce pronunciation errors;
(4) produce rhythmically correct sentences;
(5) identify meaning-change through intonation;
(6) speak accurately and fluently;
(7) ultimately increase self-confidence in speaking.

Assessment Type (subject to change)
Task nature	Description	Percentage
Participation	This considers students' attendance, in-class active participation, etc. (1) attendance (50) (2) in-class active participation (50)	10%
Homework	Recording homework will be allocated in order to reinforce school learning. Students are required to record their voice reading the provided materials and submit the audio file on Blackboard.	15%
Team Project	This is a video dubbing project involving teams of three members at different proficiency levels. (1) Select a scene(s) (not less than 12 mins) from Korean TV drama or movie and submit the video clip. (10) (2) Prepare the script in Korean. (10) (3) Dub the muted video clip into Korean. (50) (4) Conduct peer evaluations through secret ballot; each team member will be evaluated by the other team members and teams. (30)	25%
Speaking exam	The speaking exam will assess the accuracy of students' pronunciation and intonation. Students will deliver a short presentation (not less than 5 minutes) on the given topic.	25%
Final exam	This is a written exam covering the pronunciation rules taught during the term.	25%

Notes:
- Students are required to arrive on time.
- Students are required to attend at least 75% of the class. Treat 75% attendance as the minimum, not the maximum. The success of learning will highly depend on attendance. If a student miss more than 25% of the class, he/she will automatically fail the course. In case of being absent, it is recommended to get informed about what content and homework missed and make it up.
- Students are expected to submit their homework, assignments, etc. on time. Late submission will cause mark deduction unless there is any justifiable reason.
- If a student is not able to attend any exam, he/she should inform the course instructor in advance and provide an official supporting document such as a medical certificate later on. Otherwise, they might not be granted a make-up exam.

Assessment Rubrics

General Grade Descriptors

A	B	C	D	F
Outstanding performance in all learning outcomes and meeting all specified assessment requirements. Can fully understand and appropriately use sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance. Can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters in a competent way. Can describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background, immediate environment and matters in areas of immediate need appropriately.	Good performance in all learning outcomes. Can understand and mostly appropriately use sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance. Can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters in a suitable way. Can describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background, immediate environment and matters in areas of immediate need mostly appropriately.	Satisfactory performance in the majority of learning outcomes. Can partially understand and partially appropriately use sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance. Can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters in a basic way. Can partially appropriately describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background, immediate environment and matters in areas of immediate need.	Barely satisfactory performance in a number of learning outcomes. Can rarely understand and appropriately use sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance. Can barely communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters. Can occasionally describe in very simple terms aspects of his/her background, immediate environment and matters in areas of immediate need.	Unsatisfactory performance in a number of learning outcomes and/or failure to meet specified assessment requirements. Cannot understand and use sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance. Cannot communicate in routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters. Cannot describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background, immediate environment and matters in areas of immediate need.

Feedback for Evaluation
Our language programme highly values students' feedback and comments and is happy to use them for reflection on our teaching and improvement. Students are very welcome to provide comments and feedback on the course at any time to their course teacher or the course level coordinator through email or in personal conversation. In addition, students' feedbacks will be collected in the middle of the term through an open-ended questionnaire and the teacher will discuss the feedbacks in class and make improvements if necessary. The course will also follow the university's course evaluation exercise at the end of the term, and students' feedbacks will be used for future course planning and teaching.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism
Attention is drawn to University policy and regulations on honesty in academic work, and to the disciplinary guidelines and procedures applicable to breaches of such policy and regulations. Details may be found at http://www.cuhk.edu.hk/policy/academichonesty/. With each assignment, students will be required to submit a signed declaration that they are aware of these policies, regulations, guidelines and procedures.   - In the case of group projects, all members of the group should be asked to sign the declaration, each of whom is responsible and liable to disciplinary actions, irrespective of whether he/she has signed the declaration and whether he/she has contributed, directly or indirectly, to the problematic contents.   - For assignments in the form of a computer-generated document that is principally text-based and submitted via VeriGuide, the statement, in the form of a receipt, will be issued by the system upon students' uploading of the soft copy of the assignment.   - Students are fully aware that their work may be investigated by AI content detection software to determine originality.   - Students are fully aware of the AI approach(es) adopted in the course. In the case where some AI tools are allowed, students have made proper acknowledgment and citations as suggested by the course teacher.   Assignments without a properly signed declaration will not be graded by teachers.

Only the final version of the assignment should be submitted via VeriGuide.

The submission of a piece of work, or a part of a piece of work, for more than one purpose (e.g. to satisfy the requirements in two different courses) without declaration to this effect shall be regarded as having committed undeclared multiple submissions. It is common and acceptable to reuse a turn of phrase or a sentence or two from one's own work; but wholesale reuse is problematic. In any case, agreement from the course teacher(s) concerned should be obtained prior to the submission of the piece of work.

The copyright of the teaching materials, including lecture notes, assignments and examination questions, etc., produced by staff members/ teachers of The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) belongs to CUHK. Students may download the teaching materials produced by the staff members/ teachers from the Learning Management Systems, e.g. Blackboard, adopted by CUHK for their own educational use, but shall not distribute/ share/ copy the materials to a third-party without seeking prior permission from the staff members/ teachers concerned.

Use of Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) Tools in Teaching, Learning and Assessment
All use of AI tools is prohibited in assignments and assessment tasks.

For assignments and assessment tasks that count towards the final course grades, students are not allowed to submit work which is produced with the collaboration of or supported by the use of any generative AI tools (e.g. ChatGPT)*.

Any breach of the regulations will be considered an act of academic dishonesty and will be handled according to the University's Procedures for Handling Cases of Academic Dishonesty.

In case of queries, students should seek advice from the course teacher.
